NEW MANAGEMENT

Athens Firm Buys Wilson Elevator

The sales of Wilson Mill & Elevator Corp. to V. E. West, of Athens, Texas, has been announced by Bassel Wilson, Cameron businessman and former mayor.

Assuming management of the operation Monday was Maurice A. Baumgartener, 27, presently of Farmers Branch, near Dallas, who is new general manager of the large operation at 410 E. First St.

Wilson, builder of the storage facility in 1957, will continue to advise the new manager for a while after the changeover, Baumgartner told the Herald.

"These are fine people," Wilson said. "And we feel sure Cameron will welcome them into the community."

He said that he had no immediate plans for the future, but was considering several prospects.

Baumgartner is a native of Houston and a former grid player at the University of Texas, where he graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1960. He played on the State Champion Lamar High School (Houston) football team in 1953.

He played fullback and end at the University in 1955-57, but suffered a separated shoulder 11 times in his junior year.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and formerly a member of Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce. While working for General Electric in Lubbock, he was a member of the Lubbock Rotary Club.

Prior to assuming management of the Cameron storage facility, he was in the construction and investment business in Dallas.

Baumgartner is married, and has a son, Derek, 2½. He has not yet located a residence in Cameron. Mrs. Baumgartner and their son are still residing in Farmers Branch, near Dallas.

Baumgartner said the storage operation will continue to operate on the same scale, but that possibilities for expansion are being considered.

Wilson thanked the people of Milam County for their support and asked their continued support of the new management.

BEFORE THE TRIAL:

"Dirty Horse Thief Caught Red Handed with the Goods.

"Will Probably Be Strung Up and Good Riddance.

"Stole Horse from Defenseless Widow."

BUT AFTER THE TRIAL (The jury acquitted the man):

"Highly Respected Citizen Wrongly Accused of Theft.

"Stupid Charge Embarrasses Man.

"Widow Was Out to Get Him on False Charges."

We urge Milam Countians to visit and make the scenic drive around the various residential areas of their county seat.

Magazine Cites Easter Egg Dye

Texas Parade, a monthly magazine on Texas, told of one group of children in Cameron who had a big surprise after an Easter Egg hunt here.

The magazine told about the eggs being colored on the inside and not on the outside.

The eggs were produced by Monroe Fuchs, Cameron poultry geneticist, by feeding the hens fat soluble dyes. Those hens receiving only one color produced eggs with a single pastel-tinted yolk. Others received various colors and produced a multi-colored bullseye yolk.

7 Projects Added In Year

What's happened at Elm Creek Dairy since the June, 1962 opening attended by about 600 Milam Countians?

Looking more than ever like the spread of an industrial development, the king-size dairy farm started last year with a 7,200-square-foot milk parlor, an equipment shed, a long calf barn and three bull barns on a 30 acre site.

But physical improvements on the near 1,500-acre spread have counted up since that time.

ADDITIONS

They include:

--Two loafing barns, to keep cattle out of weather, each 52 feet by 146 feet.

--Two bunker-type concrete silos with 550-ton capacity.

--Completion of a 16-acre lake.

In addition to these facilities, Manager Bill Dunston reports bringing in 40 more registered Holsteins and 28 registered Jersey.

104 TO START

The operation last year installed its own water system and sewage processing system as well as automatic feeding systems to serve the four-cow milking stalls in the "milk parlor."

Milking actually began in March, 1962, with the 104 head of Jersey trucked in from Florida to the then near-completed dairy operation. Additional milk animals have been added since the operation opened.

Improvements also continue on the land around the dairying center, including clearing of brush and scrub oak timber.

If you plan to visit the operation, you may find something more added. Elm Creek Dairy keeps on building.

Connally's Veto Viewed .....

Schiller Reports On 58th

Rep. Milton Schiller, of Cameron, Wednesday disagreed with Gov. John Connally's "too much brick and not enough brain" veto of some $12.5 millions in the new bi-ennial Texas budget.

Addressing Cameron Rotarians, Rep. Schiller pointed out that "a co-operative, economy-minded 58th Legislative session" had allotted $59 million more for higher education than the previous legislature. The Governor wanted the additional funds used from budget items he vetoed and discussed in a television report Tuesday.

In a report Wednesday to Cameron Rotarians and a similar report to a meeting of Milam Farmers Union last week, Schiller noted that the 58th Legislature closed three days before the normal 140-day deadline.

MAJOR LEGISLATION

He listed major legislation that included changing the names of Texas A&M and West Texas College to University status, passage of a "loan shark" bill, merger of the Texas State Parks and Game & Fish Commissions, city annexation bill, a bill authorizing a survey of Texas higher education, both public and private, and other bills.

Emphasing the economy-mindedness of the 58th Legislature, Rep. Schiller said that contingent expenses per representative were reduced two-thirds, and that $45,000 was saved by closing the session early.

He cited the importance of the Annexation Bill which limits the areas that can be taken in by cities.

Cities the size of Cameron can take in an area one mile outside its corporate limits providing it furnishes police, fire and other utility services within a three-year period. Otherwise, the area can move to de-annex.

Major cities can take in 5 miles of territory around them, Waco-size cities 3 miles and lesser anounts for smaller cities.

TOURISM BOOSTED

He noted that Texas tourism got a boost from the 58th Legislature in hopes of curbing the decline of tourist visits in Texas that brought $457 million in 1960. It was then 13th largest in Texas industry.

And Rep. Schiller noted that legislation will go into effect in August authorizing 70 m.p.h. daytime speed limits and 65 m.p.h. night limits on Texas highways, 4,000 of which have been engineered for these speeds.

In other comments on the higher education appropriations sought by Gov. Connally, Rep. Schiller said that he felt, as did most of the Legislature, that we should'nt "put all our eggs in one basket."

In his television appearance Tuesday night, Gov. Connally vetoed budget items totaling $12,439,924 which he seeks to be used for higher education.

Items cut included a $3,600,000 state office building, $2,200,000 for a new Confederate Home for aged men, $300,000 from the $2,840,000 appropriation for screwworm eradication, and about 15 items ranging from $16,000 for repairs at a Texas Western College to a $1,390-000 item for expansion of Lufkin State Hospital.

Cameron Plans Big County Fair During Mid-July

New Councilman

Turner Appointed

Lester Turner, Cameron grocer, has been named successor to Roy Griffith, veteran city councilman who has been appointed city judge.

In a special Council meeting Monday, Mayor Coleman Duncum and City Councilmen approved Turner's appointment for Griffith's 10-month unexpired term.

Griffith already has resigned to assume city judicial duties following the June 1 resignation of John B. Henderson, Jr., who becomes county attorney June 15. He succeeds Jack W. Prescott, who vacates his county-district attorney's post Saturday to take up private law practice in Temple.

A native of Milam County, Turner will take his first public office Tuesday when he is sworn in as councilman.

"I hope to help build a better town and want to work with the Mayor and Council toward that end," Turner said."I would like to see the return of the meters because the city needs the revenue."

Turner operates a small grocery store at Yoe School Campus, one he bought about 12 years ago. He is a deacon in the Little River Baptist Church and has lived in Cameron since 1927.

Mr. and Mrs.Turner have three sons and a daughter: L. W. Turner, of Ponca City, Okla., Earl Turner, of Cameron, and Burrell Turner, of Freeport, and daughter Mrs. A. D. Lagrone, of Boise, Idaho.

County Agents Notes...

June Is Month For All Dairies

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

During the month of June many activities will be held honoring the Texas and national dairy industry. The dairy inustry deserves such honors because it provides:

1. Natures most perfect food in a wide variety.

2. One of the most sanitary food products that can be purchased.

3. More than $150 million to Texas dairymen and $5 billion to all U. S. dairymen.

4.Approximately $300 million to this states economy and over $10 billion to the national economy.

5. Employment for scores of people who furnish the goods and services used by dairymen and segments of the dairy processing industry.

SWINE FEEDING

Limited-fed gilts and sows out produced normal-fed mothers in three ways in experiment station trials at South Dakota State College. They farrowed more pigs, weaned 22 percent more pigs (average 1.1 more pigs per litter), and saved 155 lbs of feed per sow.

When the feed is limited to sows and gilts you give them about two-thirds as much energy as they would eat if they consumed all they wanted.

OUTDOOR LIVING

DON'T GET LOST

Throw a light rope, such as a clothesline, across the highest outside limb of the nearest dead three, or sparsely - limbed sapling.

Next tie a red bandana orother brightly - colored cloth, to the dangling end of the line. Then pull the bandana to the top of the tree.

KILLING A SNAKE

Just weave your gun barrel slowly back and forth. The snake will follow the barrel, putting himself on target for your shot.

Well -- anyway it's supposed to work.

DON'T WALK — IN BEHIND POINTER

Many bird hunters make the mistake of waking - in behind a pointing dog to flush birds.

This not only encourages the dog to break point, but such an approach can scatter the birds.

To flush birds, walk - in from the dog's side. Birds will bunch better when flushed, thus making better targets.

WATER EVAPORATION

Water evaporation from soil has been reduced 43 per cent using a new commercial alcohol product, hexadecanol. Tests conducted for 14 months show that the material mixed with the top qquarter-inch of soil caused a drying of this layer which acts as a barrier to the evaporation of large amounts of water.

Business Leaders Must Act Swiftly

DALLAS — U. S. business leaders have been told they must act swiftly to supplant the present era of "profitless prosperity" with a broader understanding and provement of the profit incentive system on which this nation achieved its greatness.

John D. Harper, President of Aluminum Company of America, in a speech here at the Annual Public Interest Luncheon of the Dallas Management Association, said " Profitless prosperity is a dangerous illusion. It is dangerous because its false promise invites economic consequences that would be a threat to our most prized posesion -- individual freedom."

Harper prefaced this comment by asserting that, despite apparent prosperity, the climate for economic growth -- and for free enterprise itself -- in our country has been showing signs of potential trouble for some time." He said, "the root of the problem in my judgement is our widespread failure to understand the nature of our economic system."

"America today," Mr. Harper said, "represents the paradox of a country which owes much of its greatness to one remarkable simple economic concept -- the profit incentive -- but which invests very little money, time or energy trying to understand, preserve and improve it." He added that businessmen and women were themselves partly to blame because they have never taken the time and trouble to explain adequately why profits are essential to a free society.

Alcoa's president expressed his opinion that complexities of our modern society have tended to divorce many individuals from direct involvement in -- and stimulation by -- the profit making progress. In a sense, he said, this has been an unavoidable consequence of the development of mass production and mass distribution techniques -- along with resultant job specialization.

"Young people today, in particular", he said, "seem to pride themselves on avoiding business risks. They want a 'sure thing' to start with ..... and a good retirement program, too.

"They seem not to comprehend ..... or show any interest in ..." the fact that ours is a profit and loss system. That profit is the earned reward for sucessfully managing to avoid the ever - present possibility of loss. That profits must be adequate to make up for the probability that there will be some losses. And that without the successful risk takers - and a business and political climate that encourages them -- there is no real security for any of us."

Our small regard for profit incentives, Mr. Harper said, is illustrated by "a national tax structure that is anti - profit in many respects, and therefore, anti - incentive to build and grow." Employment costs which are being pushed up faster than productivity gains and market conditions warrant, business depreciation allowances too low at inflated prices to permit the replacement of worn - out equipment, and increasing government spending deficits -- "regardless of the political party in office."

Alcoa's president noted that the corporate profit rate in relation to the size of the economy has ben on a continuing downtrend, and said "it is no accident that this has been accompanied by an uptrend in unemployment that now treatens to become chronic."

Milam ASCS Report

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced price support loan rates on 1963 crop grain sorghum, barley, oats, according to Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The Milam County price support rate for grain sorghum grading No. 2 or better is $1.94 per hundredweight. This rate does not include the 29 cents per hundredweight payment being made for planted acreage. Only grain sorghum producers who participate in the 1963 feed grain program by diverting at least 20 percent of their total feed grain base to conserving uses will be eligible to price support.

Barley producers who participate in the program will also be eligible for price support on their 1963-crop barley. The support rate for Milam County for barley grading No. 2 or better is 96 cents per bushel. This rate does not include the 14 - cent - per bushel payment-in-kind being made to cooperators with the 1963 feed grain program.

Oats to be eligible for support price must be Grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only. County support rates have been established on the basis of Grade No. 3 oats, the rate being 74 cents per bushel in all Texas counties. Participation in the 1963 feed grain program will not be a condition of eligiblity for price support on oats, Sanders said.

June Honors Most Nearly Perfect Food

COLLEGE STATION — June is the month which honors most nearly perfect food, milk. And it is a time when there is an abundance of the health giving food, says Shannon Carpenter, area dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The story of dairying in this country is closely tied to our progress. The settlers at Jamestown and later pioneers depended on the dairy cow for much nourishment just as we do today in all fifty of our states.

The dairy cow is a marvelous machine that takes grain and grass and makes it into the milk we enjoy. Milk not only gives energy but is an excellent way to crub the appetites of weight watchers, says the specialist.

Housewives get a bargain in dairy products. The food nutrients that they furnish for about 20 cents would cost 43 cents if supplied by other sources. The dairy products consumed by the average family contains about 23-26 percent of the calories, 40 - 45 percent of the protine, 75 - 84 percent of the calcium, and 35 - 39 percent of the vitamin A they need.

USDA Offers Cotton Testing Here Recently

How can you get a "mike reading on cotton?

Ask your ginner to apply for this U. S. Department of Agriculture service, says Jimmie B. Russ, in charge of Austin's Cotton Classing Office.

Last year, about 300 gins served by the Austin Cotton Classing Office applied for free classing services available to farmers in organized Smith-Doxey groups.

Mr. Russ points out that all of these groups are eligible for the "mike" service at a fee of 8 cents per sample.

"But the gins must apply for it under a special application", he emphasizes.

Applications must be received by July 1, so that the local cotton office can determine how much equipment and personel it will need to provide the "mike" service to all gins asking for it.

"Last year, farmers in this territory had nearly all of their cotton classed—about 423,000 bales", Mr. Russ reports.

"Since the 'mike' reading has become such an important factor in selling cotton, we expect a large share of the cotton we class will be 'miked' also", he explains.

The application may terminate this USDA testing service at any time by giving written notice to the cotton classing office.

Is Fishing Hook Size Important?

A lure manufacturer says that his experiments have convinced him that the size of the hook used on an artificial lure has a great deal to do with the size and quantity of bass caught.

He contends that a No. 6 hook will catch more bass while a No. 4 will catch larger fish.

Another lure maker argues against changing the hooks. He maintains that the hook that comes with the lure, as installed by the factory, is the right hook for the lure. It is chosen because it gives that particular lure proper action and balance.

About 40 Milam County sportsmen attended the State Game and Fish Commission hearing at the Milam County Courthouse Friday night, according to D. E. Davis, Game Warden.

Davis said that 36 of the 40 sportsmen present asked that the new law be changed in Milam County. Most of the fishermen wanted to returned to the four inch gill net to take rough fish.

The comments of the Countians were taped and will be played back at the Commission meeting in Austin, July 11.

Chester Burnett, who was in charge of the hearing, said the group was the most orderly one he had worked with this year. The meeting lasted about 45 minutes.

The turn out was far above last year's meeting. Last year it was necessay to go out and hunt two men to attend the meeting. The hearings cannot be held with less than two men from the county present.

Only one game law was proposed by the fish and game biologists at the meeting. This would start quail season on November 16 instead of December 1.

Propose changes by biologists for this area include taking away the net priviledge from all counties in the Trinity-Brazos area except Williamson and Burleson counties. Nets are now legal in Robinson and Falls Counties.

Cameron's representative on the circle track, Johnnie Barrett, ran into bad luck last Friday in Waco but won his share of races in Dallas Saturday.

In Waco, Barrett was one of the fastest in the time trials. But then trouble started. The first race of the night for the modifieds was the Trophy dash. The Green flag came down and the cars were off. But trouble was ahead.

As the speeding cars went into the first turn, a driver started to spin out and hit Barrett knocking him into another car.

Since this was on the first turn the cars had to start the race over. And Barrett took his machine around the track to test it.

A steering rod was bent and he pulled into the pits.

He came back and placed third in the fast car heat. And he place third in the semi-final race.

His skillful handling of the six cylinder Chevrolet put him in a good position but the two drivers ahead of him didn't make the slight mistake that he needed to pass them.

Then came the feature race of the night and Barrett was in the third row, the closest he had been to the front all night.

As the cars roared away he moved up and passed the first when the drive took the car too far on the outside after a turn. He passed another and was in a good position when he apparently hit a small bit of water on the track and spun out. He was hit and knocked upon the infield.

He waited until the cars passed and he started back out on the track. But ole lady luck had unfastened her seat belt and bailed out as he hung his car on the curb. No amount of trying on his part or the part of some of the men in the pits could get him off the curb.

There he sat. The front part of his car sticking out in the track, and the back part on the infield. And the other 11 cars were coming around the curve at breakneck speed just missing the front of his No. 40 by inches.

"I learned long ago that the safest place is buckled in the seat," Barrett said afterwards.

And he stayed there until he saw that all the cars knew he was there. When it was clear he unbuckled and scrambled out of the car.

It took a wrecker to get him off the curb. It was not a very profitable night for Barrett.

But Saturday night he and Dug Baxter, the car's owner, took off for Big D and the Races. There he won the fast car heat and the semi-final and placed 6th in the feature. In the feature he was the 28th car in line. So he must have really driven a fine race.

Another feature of the Waco races was the powder puff race. After the men were finished showing off their driving skill the ladies drove on the tracks to show off their miss-skills.

One of the ladies took off to warm up her car. She did. As a matter of fact she never took it out of low gear. After three laps of the quarter-mile track it was warm enough. The wrecker pulled it off the track.

Soon the flag men lined the ladies up and the race was off to good start. One gal, who won the race the last time the ladies met, was running a good race until the second lap when her right rear tire came off and she finished the last nine laps on three tires and a brake drum. And she didn't place too badly. But we would have liked to hear the conversation in the pits when her husband saw her.

Professional outboard boat recing makes its debut in Central Texas Sunday, June 16. The 1:00 p.m. starting time will find an outstanding line-up of drivers on hand for the first Balcar's Lake Regatta sponsored by the Caldwell Chamber of Commerce.

Many world championship drivers are scheduled to battle it out through twenty heats of runabout and hydroplane competition. Bryan drivers Ozzie Robinson, Don Kokemoor, J. R. Bravenec, and Freddie Goehl lead an all star field from throughout the state.

Goehl, Ray Jeffries and Charlie Blackwood of San Antonio, Bruce Nicholson of Pasadena., S. C. Busby of Waco, and Clayton Elmer of Baytown are all former or present world record or world championship holders.

J. D. Paulk of Temple, Louis Williams of Beaumont, Curtis Dumesnil of Port Arthur, Ed Harrison and Jimmy Epperson of Fort Worth, and Phil Crown of Dallas will pace drivers from those spots. Joe Bill Wills of Austin, Curtis Michalcyk of San Antonio, and a host of drivers from South Texas will carry the colors of that area.

West Texas drivers competing will include Billy Bob Barron, and Bobby Capps of Lubbock, and George Smiley of Wichita Falls. A large delegation of drivers from Houston will follow Henry Benz into action. P. G. Steepleton, Don Carlton, and C. D. Norton are expected to be among those banging chines for the purse of 750 dollars.

All of the professionals feel that Balcar's Lake will prove to be one of the finest bodies of racing water in the United States, with boat speeds of over 80 miles per hour possible in the larger engine classes.

The grassy tree studded shoreline and fine concession arrangements should insure the expected crowd of 5000 spectators an exciting and enjoyable afternoon of National Outboard Association sanctioned races.

The Caldwell Chamber of Commerce will apply all of the proceeds of the event to that City's summer recreation program for children.

In the year 2000, Easter Sunday will be on April 23.

New Milam Road Outlook.....

As work progresses on the new US 77 north to the Falls County line, Milam Countains can look with favor on the numerous highway improvements that have developed in the past five years.

Major improvements or new construction have virtually eliminated the narrow highways of other years in all parts of the County.

Particularly evident is new farm-to-market road construction such as the Milano-Liberty road soon to be opened. Paved farm-to-market roads make it easier for farm families to get to major state and federal arteries and into county Communities.

Cameron has been the recipient of several new projects, including the needed US77 north program. The widened Fourth Street, its four lanes marked off through the city, gives Cameron a modern look as well as needed street width for through and local traffic.

The new SH 36, the improved US 77 south, the new Yarrelton farm-to-market road are a few of the better roads around Milam's county seat.

There are new rural roads around Buckholts, others due in the Milano area, a new US 77 at Rockdale, and new construction in the Thorndale area.

These highways are the lifelines of cities. The emphasis on auto travel and truck transportation makes them as vital to modern towns as railroad service always has been.

The First Town & Country Fair

Cameron is gearing for a different kind of program in July for all of Milam County.

It will be the first Milam Town & Country Fair, scheduled for July 12 and 13 at the Cameron National Guard Armory. It succeeds the four previous Western Weeks held in Cameron in July of each year since 1959. Their early rousing successes showed the interest in an area-wide program at mid-summer.

Milam-wide participation is the key to the first Town & Country Fair.

Heading this program is Milam Home Demonstration Club's supervision of the competition, to include 18 divisions for Women's Division in baking and pantry food and canning entries. Competition is open in junior and senior divisions for women and men, if any wish to enter.

Other attractions will be a fiddlers contest, special booth displays, the Light Crust Doughboys, displays of new cars, farm equipment and merchandise, and animal and livestock exhibits.

Exhibits will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. both days.

Public response to the first Cameron Western Weeks was quick and enthusiastic. Similar programs have developed in other Central Texas towns such as Rockdale, Hearne, Marlin and Bryan.

It will be held in a combination of indoor exhibits, in case of rain, and the outdoor Mall of earlier years.

With the concerted support it deserves, the program will focus the interests of many thousands of Milam Countians in their County Seat.

Research League Issues Report

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Texas Research League a nonprofit government study organization that does many administration studies at the request of the state has issued a report on its year-long probe of the Railroad Commission. Many of its recommendations on agency management and oil and gas conservation already are being programed.

One scheduled change involves the staffing and management of Railroad Commission district offices. Commission now has 12 such offices. Responsibilities with respect to wells and staff members are so varied that the League believes the system unfairly imbalanced.

District 8 in Midland for example has approximately four times as many wells as District 4 in Corpus Christi but each office is staffed with only four engineers. Wichita Falls has more than twice as many wells as Houston but two less field men.

Four field men watch over 62,148 operating wells in the Midland district yet 21 men oversea 26,036 wells in the Kilgore area.

League's answer to the problem is to redistrict and cut the districts from 12 to 10.

PADRE ISLAND PARK PLANS UNDERWAY

If and when Congress approves a $1,500,000 appropriation to meet the land-buying needs of Padre Island National Seashore park, newly-named park superintendent William L. Bowen will begin to acquire land for the proposed 80.5-mile coastal playground.

U. S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall said Bowen will open an office in Corpus Christi some time after July 1 with a small staff. Bowen, Kansas-born veteran of the national park service took part in preliminary studies leading to the establishment of the new national seashore area on Padre Island.

COMMITTEE OF 25 AT WORK

Gov. John B. Connally entertained his "Committee of 25" with a coffee then set them to work. Committee has the year-long task of studying education beyond the high school.

Connally told them Texas needs a "total policy to guide all institutions all segments of our higher education enterprise." He said this included state church and private schools junior and senior colleges and academic and technical institutions.

Committee met and decided to send their chairman H. B. Zachry of San Antonio, suggestions on how to approach the challenge. They meet again in August.

SPECIAL SESSION TALK DWINDLES

Rumors of a special session to get an appropriations bill more to Governor Connally's liking still are going around. But now predictions are being made about a January session rather than one in summer or fall.

Connally said he didn't like the one passed by the Legislature in the regular session because it "short-changed" higher education.

HOME—BUILDING ABUSES

Reported abuses of home building practices and loans were the subject of a recent conversation between Governor Connally and Lubbock District Attorney Alton Griffin president of the state district and county attorneys association.

Connally said "It may be that additional legislation will be necessary to get at the heart of the matter."

One reported abuse that concerns them is the alleged practice of "double contracting" wherein 100 per cent home financing is achieved by cushioning appraisals and other real estate sales documents.

APPOINTMENTS

Connally appointed three new members to the State Finance Commission including S. R. Jones Jr., president of the First Pasadena State Bank in Pasadena and Rex Baker Jr., president of Southwestern Savings Association of Houston. He also reappointed Taylor attorney Roman J Bartosh.

Bert Fields Dallas oil operator, was reappointed and named chairman of the Texas Turnpike Authority on which he has served since 1953. A new appointee is J. M. Haggar Jr. of Dallas vice-president of the company that manufactures Haggar slacks for men.

Haggar replaced Armistead Rust of San Angelo.

CARR'S CHORES LIGHTENED

After August 23 the governor will have to make 15 more state board appointments. These 15 citizens named will take the place of just one man—Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Switch was made possible by a bill supported by the attorney general which passed during the recent legislative session. End result will be to peel down the pile of "ex officio" jobs, which have burdened attorneys general in the past and give Carr more time for his main job as the states head lawyer.

POT MOTEM

About 300 state labor leaders came to Austin to reflect on the accomplishments - or lack of accomplishments - of the 58th Legislature.

"The 58th could turn out better than the 59th," Cherry said. "Next time, you'll have the problems of a big tax session and a second-term speaker (Speaker Byron Tunnell, supposedly) running for Attorney General."

As session acnievements, Cherry listed the Padre Islands bill, Municipal Annexation bill, Tourist Development programs, Water Storage expansion and provisions for teacher retirement.

Measures for rural development, which did not pass, were among what he considered failures of the Legislature.

Philosopher Comes Out Against Standard Work Week For Farmers Of This Country

Dear editor:

I was looking through a farm magazine the other night and ran across a letter by a farmer with a curious problem.

He wanted to know why farmers can't have a standard work-week like city people. "Why can't we have a standard," he asked "so when we quit work at 6 we won't feel like we're loafing?"

This question brings up so many answers I hardly know where to start attacking it.

In the first place I've never had any trouble knowing when to stop working. I've sometimes had trouble knowing when to start but never when to stop.

Maybe city people have to be told when they're tired but I've never had that shortcoming.

This farmer went on to say he'd like to know what work hours other farmers put in around the U. S. on the grounds a uniform standard could be established and a man could get off his tractor at a certain time each day without feeling sheepish about it.

A man who has to watch his neighbor to know when to stop plowing is in the wrong business. On the other hand any neighbor who watches me to learn when to start will go broke.

But this idea of a standard work week for farmers worries me. You let somebody in Washington hear about it and it won't be long before he'll come out with some new legislation called on Hour - Control Program with government checks out if you go over or under it.

A farmer's day begins when he wakes up and ends when he goes to sleep and what he does during those hours is his own business provided the support price is satisfactory. And any farmer who can't figure out how to spend those hours without looking over the fence to make sure he doesn't work longer or shorter than his neighbor ought to move to town and get a job where somebody can make these decisions for him.

I don't want anybody telling me how few hours I can work a week. This is a matter I can decide for myself even if it takes me the first five days to decide what I plan to do the last two.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LIMESTONE

Texas farmers apply only one-tenth amount of limestone they could profitably use, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. Though the use of limestone for acide soils is as old as soil management, use continues to lag. The areas in greatest need of limestone are the East Texas Timberland sand the eastern portion of the Costal Prairie, he says. Soil tests are needed to determine the need for the mineral.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Dry fall months can be even more dangerous than those of summer when it comes to forest fire danger. Nippy weather of fall causes more campfires to be built.

Also, keep the fire itself as small as possible.

Guardsman Is Among 120 At Officers School

Lee Franklin Hollas of 1502 W. Main is undergoing an intensive two weeks training program in the field and in the classroom. After completing summer camp, Hollas will return to his home national guard unit, Company C,3rd Battalion 112th Armor, and will be required to return to Camp Mabry or Dallas for 16 days of weekend drills during the next eleven months and two additional weeks next June.

Upon completion of a year of successful training, these candidates will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Texas National Guard.

It's simple arithmetic!
EXTRA power at NO extra cost!
Friedrich room air conditioner

COMPARE
FRIEDRICH'S CERTIFIED* COOLING POWER (BTU'S) and OPERATING COST (WATTS) with any other brand of air conditioner.

Here's a typical example —
1½ H.P. Friedrich produces 18,500 BTU'S
1½ H.P. "Brand G" produces 16,300 BTU'S
FRIEDRICH GIVES YOU 2,100 MORE BTU'S OF COOLING POWER

1½ H.P. "Brand G" consumes 2,520 WATTS
1½ H.P. Friedrich consumes 2,190 WATTS
FRIEDRICH CONSUMES 330 LESS WATTS OF ELECTRICITY

*FRIEDRICH BTU AND WATT RATINGS ARE NEMA CERTIFIED!
This is a facsimile of the NEMA seal (which every Friedrich unit carries). When the actual seal is affixed to room air conditioner models shown in this ad, it signifies that the BTU/Hr cooling capacity and watts shown on the nameplate are certified accurate by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

We'll show you exactly how much more cooling power you'll enjoy — and how much less it will cost — with a Friedrich, compared to any other unit you can buy.

THERE'S MORE POWER TO YOU IN A Friedrich FOR COOLING POWER — FOR SAVING POWER —

Outdoors In Texas

Spring and summer months always bring a rash of boating accients.

Accidents happen to large and small boats alike. Size doesn't seem to matter. For instance on a Central Texas lake very recently a party of four were in a fast boat, having a wonderful time. The boat had lots of power in its outboard and the driver was "showing off" how he could take a short turn.

He made the turn, allright. But it was "over." As he whipped the boat around, the back end went down too far. He picked up so much water the boat was swamped before he knew what had happened. Fortunately another boat was nearby and rescued the four passesgers. But they lost a lot of equipment.

One night I was loading my boat on the trailer. I had set the brakes on the car, but the ramp was wet and slick. When I started winching the boat into the trailer the whole out-fit, car trailer and boat— started sliding back into the water. And it didn't stop! Boat, automobile and everything went into the water. The boat floated away but later was recovered. The trailer hitch broke loose and the car settled down atop the trailer.

It was a wiered looking sight. with twin beams from the burning headlights shining from the water. It was costly and it taught me a lesson. Now when I am loading a boat I always scotch the wheels of the automobile.

Up on Lake-o'-Pines in East Texas recently three fishermen loaded their gear into a brand new 14-foot cartop boat which they hauled 300 miles. The boat weighed 90 pounds. But 500 pounds of manpower got into the boat. When the motor started up, the front end scooped up water so fast it almost swamped the boat.

The man up front got in the middle seat and that helped some. But the boat generally was so unsteady they didn't enjoy their fishing too much. They learned this lesson: a cartop boat is fine, but don't sacrifice safety for convenience and weight. Two men can handle a 125 or 150 pound cartop boat almost as easily as a 90 pound boat. And the larger boat offers more comfort and more safety.

It also is a good idea to "keep your head" in a boat.

Another fellow I know was standing up while fishing out of a boat that was absolutely safe. The wind blew it against a tree with a resulting bump.

For some reason he jumped straight up.....and into water well over his head. He held onto his rod and reel and climbed back into the boat without ever stopping movement, giving his two fishing buddies the biggest laugh of the day. But it taught all three a good lesson.

Another real danger in boating is going too fast in water where there might be some obstruction beneath the surface.

In some of the larger lakes, like Buchanan, threre are huge rocks, some of them just under the water line. If you hit one of these rocks or an old log going too fast, you are certain to have trouble.

Despite all warnings, however, most of us still will be careless. Before the summer is over there will be too many names in the obituary columns as the result of boating accidents.

So let me repeat: Be sure of your boat before you go onto the water; take strange waters easily and be sure you have approved life preservers. Preferably they shoud be worn, but at least they should be handy enough for every person to grab one in the event of an accident. Don't stand up in a boat unless you absolutely have to.

And above all—don't ride in any boat that is overpowered or overloaded. Both are dangerous.

GREAT SYMPHONY OF PRAISE!

PRAISE HIM, THE HEIGHTS... SUN, MOON AND STARS...
PRAISE HIM, EARTH AND ALL THE ELEMENTS
PRAISE HIM, ALL VEGETATION, ALL ANIMALS, ALL FOWL
PRAISE HIM, ALL HUMANITY AND ALL AUTHORITIES...
PRAISE HIM, SEA MONSTERS, OCEAN DEPTHS & ALL CREATION
— PSALM 148
"LET EVERYTHING THAT HATH BREATH PRAISE THE LORD. PRAISE YE THE LORD" — PSALM 150:6

Regular worship in the Lord's house on the Lord's day — and at other times — helps keep the heart attuned to the songs of praise. This in turn makes for happiness and well-being. If you know this experience, you will desire it again and again. If you do not know it, won't you try it — and wouldn't next Lord's day be the time to do so?

FHA Accepting Applications For Farm Recreation

Farmers Home Administration is now accepting loan applications from family farmers for the development of recreation enterprises on their farms, Henry N. Ivey, county supervisor of the agency for Milam and Burleson Counties said today.

Loans also are available to non-profit associations of farmers and others living in rural communities to cover the cost of shifting land to different uses, including recreation. On family farms in Milam County, among the enterprises that now may be financed by a Farmers Home Administration loan are lakes, cottages, picnic grounds, row boats and equipment for finhing.

Ivey said that his agency will use its regular lending programs to finance the new recreation loans. The maximum amount of intermediate credit farmers can obtain to cover operating costs of a recreation project is $35,000. Under the real estate loan program they can borrow a maximum of $60,000 to develop land and buildingn for recreation.

It is expected that the average loan nationally for on - farm recreation activities will be considerably less than these top amounts.

Nonprofit associations of rural residents may borrow up to $1 million to finance changes in present land use.

To qualify for a recreation loan, indiviual farmers and associations must supply proof they are unable to obtain needed credit elsewhere on reasonable terms. The must also pledge security for the loans.

Reduced long distance telephone rates for most station - to - station calls between 9 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. within Texas will be introduced by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company on June 15, C. L. Carson, Manager of the company, announced.

Reductions up to 50 cents on the longest such calls within Texas will result from the new schedule.
